

Nokia Bell Scientific Award 2026

REGULATIONS

- Art. 1. With the financial support of Nokia Belgium, the Fund for Scientific Research-FNRS (F.R.S.-FNRS) and the Research Foundation - Flanders (FWO) present the annual Nokia Bell Scientific Award.

Nokia is a global leader in connectivity, advancing fixed, mobile, and transport networks for the AI era. This Award rewards the PhD thesis that brings the most original contribution in the field of information and communication technologies, in one of the following topics:

- Artificial and connected intelligence
- Artificial Intelligence assisted software development
- Decentralized/Trustless and secure Software Systems
- Edge and cloud computing
- Fixed and wireless communication
- Optical communication
- Signal processing
- AI-native, autonomous and mission-critical networks

- Art. 2. The Award is intended for an individual researcher who has obtained their PhD thesis from a Belgian University or the Royal Military Academy of Belgium between 1 January 2025 and 31 December 2025, using the date of the public defence as the reference.

- Art. 3. Candidates must hold a research position at a university or research institute at the submission deadline (16 March 2026). This can also be an unpaid affiliation.

- Art. 4. The Award amounts to € 8.000 (for personal use; Nokia Bell has no responsibility for any usage of the Award).

- Art. 5. Applications, written in English, must be submitted by email no later than 16 March 2026 (midnight CET) to prix@frs-fnrs.be.

The application must include the following documents:

- As a single pdf:
  - The completed application form;
  - A detailed curriculum vitae including a list of publications;
- As a separate document: an electronic version of the PhD thesis.

The regulations and the application form are available on the website www.frs-fnrs.be.

- Art. 6. The Award cannot be divided amongst multiple researchers.

- Art. 7. The PhD thesis may have been partially or entirely conducted in collaboration with Nokia Bell and its subsidiaries.
- Art. 8. Employees of Nokia Bell and its subsidiaries are not eligible for the Award.
- Art. 9. The Award will be granted based on the recommendations of an independent panel of experts appointed by the F.R.S.-FNRS and the FWO.
- Art. 10. If no suitable laureate can be identified, the F.R.S.-FNRS and the FWO can decide not to award the Prize.
- Art. 11. Any question regarding the applications or the awarding of the Prize will be settled in a final and binding manner by the F.R.S.-FNRS and the FWO.
- Art. 12. Nokia Bell, in consultation with the Award winner, has the right to publish the awarded work, mentioning the author's name and position.
- Art. 13. The deliberations of the panel are confidential and must not be disclosed.
